FEATHERS FETE DATES ARE SET BY COMMITTEE

Poultry Festival To Be Held In Salem Oct. 21 to 26

HENRY HURLBURT NAMED CHAIRMAN

Sub-Committees Designated; Other Plans Are Discussed

The poultry festival in Salem next fall, planned by district poultrymen and business representatives, will be held Oct. 21 to 26, inclusive, it was determined by the executive committee at a meeting Thursday night in the Memorial building.

Henry C. Hurlburt of Salem was chosen chairman of the executive committee which also includes C. F. Moser of Columbiana, manager of the Northeast Ohio Poultry association; Jerome Hull of Canfield, a turkey breeder; Carl Willman representative of the Salem Business Bureau; and P. R. Corey of Columbiana, a fancier and member of the Ohio Valley Poultry association.

Committees Selected

Eight sub-committees to assist in arranging for the festival here were appointed but have yet to be verified. These committees include publicity, show, concessions, parade and display, poultry promotion, entertainment, financial and education.

Plans were made last night for a general dinner meeting to be held in the near future, officially launching the festival campaign. Glen Campbell, who managed the recent successful World's Poultry Congress at Cleveland, may be the guest speaker.

The dinner meeting will be for the general festival committee, which includes interested poultry and business men.

Name Is Sought

The executive committee has failed to decide upon a name for the festival and is considering sponsoring a contest to get a suitable title. The festival is planned as a city-wide affair, with a large poultry show only one of many attractions.

Plans have been considered to hold a contest during the festival to select the healthiest 4-H club boy and girl. The entire program has the backing and support of the Business Bureau.

FILM CENTER KIDNAP PLOT IS THWARTED

Youthful Would-Be Abductor Himself Calls Police, Is Arrested

(By Associated Press)
HOLLYWOOD, March 8.—A curiously-bungled plot to kidnap Judy Garland, 17-year-old singing star of the films, left a 19-year-old transient from Buffalo, N. Y., in jail today.

Officers said Robert Wilson planned, with an accomplice, the midnight abduction, then grew panicky and telephone police that "Judy Garland will be kidnapped tonight"—the warning which led to his own arrest.

Hunt for Companion

He was booked tentatively on a charge of suspicion of kidnapping. A search for his companion was under way.

Capt. Grover Armstrong said Wilson told him that after watching the actress' $40,000 Bel-air home for two days and learning that the servants would be off duty Thursday night, he and a friend decided to meet at midnight and break into the house. Becoming frightened, Wilson telephoned police from a Santa Monica hotel that "Judy Garland will be kidnapped tonight."

Police traced the call, and a hotel employee gave such an accurate description of Wilson that the youth was arrested, a block away.

Judy Entertains

Meanwhile reporters, photographers and 16 policemen had descended upon the Garland home where Judy and her sister, Virginia, in the absence of their mother and step-father, were entertaining six young friends.

"I've never been threatened before," Judy told them calmly. "I'm sure everything will be all right, but make yourselves at home."

While her young guests resumed their dancing and games, Judy dished out ice cream to the visitors. The party ended when Judy's mother, Mrs. Ethel Gumm Gilmore, returned and young Wilson's arrest was disclosed.

FINANCE GROUP IN SENATE O.K.'S TRADE PROGRAM

Committee Votes 12 to 8 On House Approved Legislation

CLEAR WAY FOR SENATE ACTION

Proposed Farm Payments Increase Also Up for Attention

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 8.—The senate finance committee voted 12 to 8 today to approve, without amendment, the house-approved legislation to continue the administration's trade agreements program three years beyond next June 12.

The committee's approval cleared the way for senate consideration next week of the controversial measure to renew the state department's expiring authority to make trade pacts in which tariff concessions would be extended not only to the nation signing the agreement but to all others not discriminating against American exports.

Two Key Issues

This is one of two key issues immediately before congress. The other is whether to add a quarter-billion dollars to farm funds.

Before debate of the controversial Hatch anti-politics bill was resumed on the senate floor, the finance committee gathered to vote on the three-year extension to the trade agreements act asked by President Roosevelt.

At the last hour, Senator Pittman (D-Neu) proposed an amendment to require senate ratification of all future trade pacts. Proponents of the existing law which authorizes the state department to negotiate agreements, promptly contended such a change would scuttle the program.

Vying for congressional attention with action on the major recommendation of Mr. F. D. Ives, a rising clamor for a big increase in the farm payments he proposed.

Trimmed By House

The house trimmed the President's budget estimates for the agriculture department from $788,929,519 to $713,896,084. But farm state senators took of a billion-dollar bill through additions of from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000.

The appropriations subcommittee in charge of the annual agricultural supply bill scheduled final action on this economy vs. spending milestone today, with sentiment apparently in favor of the increase.

STATION ROBBED AT WEST POINT

Two Youthful Gunmen Get $77 at Crawford's Corners

LISBON, March 8.—Two youthful gunmen escaped with $77 in a holdup at the Crawford's Corners gasoline station and tourist camp, just east of West Point, at 4:45 a. m. today, deputy sheriffs reported.

It was the first time the place had been robbed since 14 years ago when Jay Crawford, then the proprietor, shot and killed a robber who had set off a home-made burglar alarm.

One of the men entered the station this morning while his companion waited outside near their car. The youth approached Robert Singdecker, the attendant, and asked to rent a cabin for the night.

Handing Singdecker a $5 bill, the man uncovered a gun when the attendant opened the cash drawer to make change, and took the $77 which was in the drawer, deputy sheriffs said.

The bandit rejoined his companion and together they escaped in their automobile which was driven south, in the direction of East Liverpool.

Singdecker immediately notified Mrs. Crawford at her home nearby and she called the sheriff's office. The attendant did not get the license number of the gunmen's car.

It was the second robbery in the district this week. An unarmed youth sneaked $138 in cash from a safe at the Hanna Service station in Lisbon on Monday.

SWEDISH-FINN ENVOYS CONFER WITH NAZI AID

Basis of Peace Negotiations Seen As Goal of Berlin Trip

NO PLEA TO U. S. SAYS ROOSEVELT

Observers See Possible Success As Peace Talks Continue

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, March 8.—Per Eivind Svinhufvud, 79-year-old former president of Finland, arrived here by plane today and immediately entered the office of Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop accompanied by the Swedish minister to Berlin, Arvid Richert.

Diplomatic circles believed that the governments of Finland and Sweden would make an appeal to Adolf Hitler to intercede with Russia for terms on which a Russian Finnish peace might be negotiated.

These circles believed the emissaries would represent to Hitler that such mediation on his part is the only means of averting intervention of the western powers in the struggle.

No Request to U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—President Roosevelt said today the United States government had received no request for mediation in the Russo-Finnish war.

Beyond saying that, however, the chief executive declined to discuss European reports that mediation efforts of this government might be sought.

The President told his press conference that such matters were of a nature that could not be discussed even if negotiations of that kind were going on.

To another inquiry whether Undersecretary Welles was participating in any Russo-Finnish negotiations, the chief executive remarked there was nothing to be said on that.

Success Possibilities Seen

COPENHAGEN, March 8.—Efforts to end the Russo-Finnish war, with Germany and Sweden as likely intermediaries, struck a swift pace today.

Success possibilities were brightened, in informed opinion, by these developments.

Reports that Soviet leaders had made a definite statement of terms to Finland:

Arrival here of Per Eivind Svinhufvud, former president of Finland, enroute by air to Berlin with the possibility foreseen that Germany might influence her friend Russia to settle the conflict.

Reported arrival of Finnish Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim and the Russian Marshal Vasily Blucher in Stockholm, center of the negotiations.

Continuance of the Stockholm conferences, strengthening the meeting ground of the Russian minister, Elias Erkkio.

And enforcement of a strict Swedish censorship which was deemed unlikely unless the peace efforts remained hopeful.

Hamacker, who was first indicted for breaking and entering, was placed on probation Jan. 19, 1937. Following violation of his probation in the theft of the car, he was sentenced to Mansfield in September, 1938.

LOOKING BEFORE THEY LEAP

Salem's youngsters may be disappointed because they will not have a public swimming pool the coming summer, but their elders will applaud the decision of their city councilmen to look before they leap into a pool of under-estimated cost figures.

These councilmen sense their full responsibility in offering the voters a bond issue and tax levy for construction and maintenance purposes and they don't propose to ask the voters to consider a proposal that they, themselves, do not understand. Consequently they're going to find out all that is possible about swimming pool costs and types before they put the issue up to a vote. It sounds like good judgment to the average citizen and to all who will have to foot the bill.

All council had for consideration at its meeting Tuesday night was a list of figures hurriedly thrown together by the city engineer. There were no plans and there had been no opportunity to study the figures before the meeting. The engineer's estimates may be within reason, but $78,000 is a lot of money to the taxpayer, even though it may be considered "chicken feed" by the engineer. The plans he has in mind may be all right, but no one has had an opportunity to study them to determine whether he is figuring on a monument or a plain, inexpensive pool that serves the same purpose as some beautifully designed structure. More than a year has gone by when all these plans might have been worked out and thoroughly checked but since no one saw fit to do that, council proposes to do the job itself.

Among other things it will investigate is an indoor pool that can be opened for the summer months and used throughout the year. There is a growing sentiment for such a pool in Salem because it could be used 12 months instead of two and a half to three months; because supervision costs would be at a minimum since school children would use it during the day; and because there seems to be a possibility that it could be built for less money than an outdoor pool by connecting it with the Memorial building.

This plan is well worth investigating fully, and councilmen propose to do just that, as well as digging up cost figures on outdoor pools. Most of the guess work should be eliminated from the swimming pool issue by the time they complete their investigation.

IT'S ALL POLITICS

In view of the fight an administration senator, Minton of Indiana, is leading against extending the Hatch anti-politics law to state employees paid partly from federal funds and President Roosevelt's complaint that census criticism is a "political move," the word needs some brushing up.

Politicians engage in politics; it's their job. Some are shrewder at it than others. Some are more ethical than others. Some regard politics as the machinery that makes representative government work, and they are right. Others are in it for the sake of their pocketbooks and ego, and they usually get thrown out trying to steal second.

All of them have one thing in common. They try to rally as much popular support as possible for themselves and their cause. When they get licked they have made a bum guess. If they succeed, they are looked up to and, with a little luck, may be called statesmen in their obituaries.

Yet, despite their mutuality of interest in politics, politicians never fail to profess to despise a member of the opposition for practicing the trade. They yearn for a closed monopoly under the thumb of their own crowd—no others need apply. They never miss a chance to accuse the other side of skulduggery, it being a weakness of human nature to discredit the opposition's motives.

What the country needs is a law that no politician shall accuse another of playing politics. It's a self-evident fact that all politicians play politics. In anticipation of all the slurring remarks that will be made on the matter in the forthcoming campaign it's a pity so much energy must be wasted saying something that everybody knows.

HISTORY IS MADE

They laughed when Tom Dewey started to talk about agriculture. What they wanted to know, could the prosecutor of New York county know about farming?

Not any too much, perhaps, but as much as any one of dozens of men who have dreamed about being president of the United States. Perhaps a little more.

In Lincoln, Neb., Wednesday night, Mr. Dewey made a speech about farming. After giving the New Deal the customary lambasting for its farm policies and explaining that he, himself, was a farmer by environment and had invested his savings in a farm, Mr. Dewey made a profound statement.

"I have found no scheme," he declared, "I know of no single scheme that will solve the farm problem overnight."

It is doubtful if an aspirant for a presidential nomination ever said such a thing before. More than that, it is doubtful if Mr. Dewey ever will say such a thing again.

If the farm problem can't be solved inside of 24 hours by black magic, a lot of fellows who have been promising to do it to these many years will be accused of obtaining votes under false pretenses. They won't dare let it get out that Mr. Dewey, the city slicker, has seen through them.

COAXABLE

It's interesting, if not unexpected, news that Martin L. Davey is available for the Democratic party's nomination for governor. His position in the matter seems to resemble that of the chief of his party. Both are coaxable. They can be had.

Mr. Davey, however, seems more indifferent than President Roosevelt has seemed so far. He has not found within himself "any great yearning to be governor again." A third term, one gathers, would be somewhat in the nature of a personal sacrifice. This may restrain some of his warmest friends from imposing on him.

Nevertheless, if the Democrats want him to lead the fight on the enemy he will buckle on his armor and sally forth. He will not, he promises, clash swords with the other heroes but will save all his sanguinary zip for the Trojans.

It's hard to see how so generous an offer can be turned down, but probably the Democrats will find a way.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, March 9

THE LUNAR and mutual aspects bearing rule on the affairs of this day are rather conflicting but eventually culminate in constructive and satisfactory results. Preliminary to success there will be a decisive breaking up of static or long-thwarting conditions which, when doggedly attacked, will pave the way for sound progress and a stabilization of the fortunes. Real possessions should increase, but be alert to wiles and schemes and sign papers cautiously. In the domestic, social and sentimental relations there is much security and happiness.

Those whose birthday it is are assured of a year of very definite progress in the matter of advancing their interests and enhancing their fortunes. These may be put on a stable basis by the breaking up of old, congested or stagnant situations to make way for constructive results by hard work, initiative and sound judgment. But be wary of schemes and sign all papers with care. A similar state of advancement and security pervades all domestic, social and affectional relationships. Elders are of benefit.

A child born on this day may be serious, profound, studious and hard working, and practical as well as enterprising. Its stability of character and sound principles should lead it to success, happiness and recognition.

Tongues Reveal Stories To Those Who Can Read Them

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

WHAT has become of the old-fashioned practice of looking at the patient's tongue?

Good doctors still look at the tongue, although probably they do not claim to gather as much information from it as the old general practitioner who used to take the temperature, look at the tongue, feel the pulse, look at the skin and call it a day so far as physical examination was concerned.

Like everything else, practice in examination of the tongue brings out a number of things which gain in significance as they are studied. The tongue is a good organ for the household doctor or house mother to study for this reason.

The state of moisture of the tongue is fraught with important information. A dry, brown, furred tongue is of serious import, whereas the return of moisture and the disappearance of the fur indicate improvement.

Movements Important. The movements of the tongue are of significance. The way in which it is protruded may indicate slight or marked paralysis in elderly people.

The tongue plays an important part in digestion, in mastication and in the regulation of the respiratory system. Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through this column.

and also in the formulation of speech. In health it can be moved quickly or slowly in all directions, protruded straight in the middle line, maintained there and withdrawn. In nervous people the movements of the tongue tend to be made quickly or jerkily. Weakness or exhaustion may cause the tongue to be protruded only slightly on command. In apoplexy half the tongue muscles very frequently are paralyzed so that the healthy half pushes the tongue over towards the affected side.

Tremor of the tongue, tremulousness, may be a sign of nervousness in a healthy person or weakness in an exhausted one. It is not infrequently a sign of over-indulgence in alcohol and one that cannot be concealed.

Taste Disorders. Disturbances of taste may occur in fever, in shock and in nerve disease. In facial palsy taste is lost over the anterior two-thirds of the tongue. When the nerve of taste, the glossopharyngeal nerve, is paralyzed, loss of taste occurs over the posterior third of the tongue.

Taste is tested by using the four

It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, thereby closes the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicine or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

VERNMENT TO ASK AGE PROOF

Documentary Evidence to Have Increasing Im-

Documentary evidence of a person's age, ranging from a birth certificate to a license to drive an automobile, is going to have an increasing importance as the federal government's old-age and survivors insurance program develops, according to Edwin V. Faulhaber, manager of the social security board's field office at Youngstown.

Faulhaber explained that the government will insist upon the proof of one's declaration of age before insurance payments are made. The law provides that monthly payments may be made to workers who have reached the age of 65 if they qualify, but, Faulhaber asserted, it will accept no loose statements as to age.

Similarly, the age of a worker's wife or widow or of his children must be proved before they can receive any of the supplementary benefits provided under the revised Social Security Act.

Given Full Opportunity
"But a claimant will be given every opportunity," said Faulhaber "to supply the required proof. The applicant probably will be asked if he has a birth certificate. As a matter of fact, birth certificates of persons now 65 years old or more are comparatively scarce. In only eight states and the District of Columbia had the practice of keeping birth certificates been adopted before 1874. The District of Columbia began the keeping of such records in 1874; Florida in 1885; Massachusetts in 1880; Michigan in 1887; New Hampshire in 1840; New Jersey in 1848; Rhode Island in 1853; Vermont in 1857; and Virginia in 1853."

The keeping of birth records in Ohio, Faulhaber said, was begun in 1908.

Faulhaber added that in the event an applicant is unable to produce a birth certificate or a church record, such as the baptismal record, he may submit the statement of the doctor or midwife with personal knowledge of his birth. But recognizing that this type of evidence would, in most cases, be as unavailable to a man of 65 as a birth certificate or a baptismal record, the Board's representative will suggest that he turn to the old family Bible. He may find there, inscribed on one of those ornately enscrolled pages designed for the recording of family records, the date and place of his birth.

Statements May Be Used
"If, however, it becomes evident the claimant cannot produce a birth certificate, a church record or similar document," Faulhaber added, "he may submit the statements of two other persons who have personal knowledge that he was born on a certain date, but since such persons will be even older than the claimant, the obtaining of this evidence is admittedly difficult."

"If it cannot be produced, the board will open the way to the presentation of a miscellaneous lot of evidence, which, when viewed as a whole, may be regarded as sufficient. This type of evidence will include public documents of varying nature, such as a man's army discharge, school records, or marriage certificates."

Kitchens To Be Major Project In Rural Areas

"Convenient Kitchens" has been decided as the major project of the home extension work during 1940-41 after a meeting at Lisbon which 40 nutrition leaders and land-use women attended Friday, March 1.

Erma Ramseyer, home demonstration agent, reviewed briefly during the first part of the meeting the program for 1939. The major project was "Three Meals a Day" with two demonstrations given in 16 different communities and 518 different women attending these meetings.

Mrs. Dorothy S. Hammans, assistant home demonstration agent leader of Ohio State university, led the discussion on what responsibilities the leaders have in developing the extension program that interests the largest group of people, and to meet the needs of the people to interest people who do not realize they have problems, to develop a program within the power of the homemaker to participate, and to have variety and continuity in the program.

Each nutrition leader reported on the problems the women indicated at their nutrition meeting, after which a summary of all these problems was given by the home agent. The extension program for 1940-41 as planned by the women is to include two meetings on "Convenient Kitchens" as the major project and one meeting on nutrition; in communities interested, sewing-machine clinics; continuation of child care letters, home account meetings; and a county-wide meeting on the community locker.

The land-use women attending the meeting were Mrs. G. C. Williams, Mrs. Alta Mick, Mrs. George Magsam, Mrs. H. L. Reuter, Mrs. J. E. Henderson, Mrs. R. H. Buhecher, Mrs. Herbert H. Hanna, Mrs. S. J. Calvin, Mrs. Wade D. Clark, Mrs. Elvy Thompson, Mrs. Mary Kamper, Mrs. Alva Cope, Mrs. Lloyd Farmer, Mrs. H. R. Dickinson, Mrs. Mary Shaw and Mrs. H. C. Keich.

Other women present were: Mrs. Gladys Vincent, Ida Pieren, Flossie Vaughn, Mrs. C. R. Hammond, Mrs. A. G. Oliphant, Mrs. Charles Berger, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. O. F. Sidwell, Mrs. C. P. Hall, Mrs. W. F. Rudabaugh, Mrs. Clem Laughlin, Mrs. Walter Vincent, Mrs. Frank Simmons, Mrs. Ed Grubbs, Mrs. Stanley G. Howard, and Mrs. Lloyd K. Walton.

Thursday, March 7 the women in and around Knox township are invited to attend the second meeting of "The Three Meals a Day" project at the home of Mrs. Ray Boron, North Georgetown, beginning at 10:30 a. m.

Erma Ramseyer, home agent, will demonstrate the planning and preparation of food for a luncheon or supper. Those attending are asked to bring their own sack lunch and table service. The leader for this meeting is Mrs. Howard Freshley of Homeworth.

Many Ohio farmers are taking advantage of the state forestry department's offer to furnish trees for reforestation purposes at cost price. Trees for forest planting will be shipped from Ohio state university as soon as planting time arrives to Ohio farmers who have placed advance orders. Late orders may arrive after the supply is exhausted.

Farmers interested in getting trees for reforestation purposes may secure order blanks from the county agricultural agent's office in Lisbon.

Renews Her Plea Of Love; Plunges From 17th Floor

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, March 8.—A girl, identified by police from a note in her purse as Johanna Stoddard of New York, jumped from her 17th floor hotel window this morning. She was dead when police picked her up five minutes later.

A lipstick pencilled note on the wall of her room said "exit smiling," and in her purse was a note addressed to William S. Paley, 485 Madison ave., New York City, in which she professed her love for him.

The girl had an expensive wardrobe in the room including about $40 worth of clothes purchased yesterday from a downtown department store.

There was $450 in cash in her purse and $250 in traveller's checks. The note dated March 8, and addressed "Dear Bill," said:

"I just wanted to thank you for your kindness. You know how things were with me. I may have said things in desperation that I didn't mean. I hope you do not hate me, and, I mean, I'm sorry. I know you will understand and forgive me. I'm not well. My lungs are in a precarious state, where I have to be so careful. I still love you but I guess you were right. I only fought so hard because my heart hurt so. You've been very white about everything. I can only hope to emulate you and try to do something good with my life. I am very tired."

"Good bye, darling."

"Johanna."

The girl was fully dressed when she jumped from the hotel window. The girl had registered as J. Stoddard, 404 E. Fifty-Fifth st., New York City, on March 4.

FIGHTS ATTACK; CHILD IS SLAIN

Nine-Year-Old Farm Girl Fatally Shot; 27-Year-Old Farm Hand Kills Himself

(By Associated Press)

MANSFIELD, March 8.—Coroner Hugh C. Winbiger reexamined the body of 9-year-old Marjorie Gamble today to confirm his first opinion that the child successfully fought off a criminal assault by a 27-year-old farm hand only to be slain by the man who then ended his own life.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Gamble, discovered the tragedy when they returned to their home near Lexington from a shopping trip late yesterday.

Called Good Worker
They found the body of Theodore Smith, described by Gamble as "the best worker I ever had," sprawled on the living room floor with a rifle bullet in his head. In Smith's bedroom they found their daughter, shot through the breast.

Most of the child's clothing had been torn off and the room showed evidence of a frenzied struggle. Coroner Winbiger said he found no sign that the girl had been assaulted, but could determine no other motive for the slaying. Sheriff E. P. Long said Smith once had been suspected in a robbery, but that no charge ever was filed against him.

The girl's father declared that the man who did chores on the 80-acre farm never showed any interest in Marjorie.

Smith appeared at the girl's school shortly before noon and told the teacher, Mrs. A. V. Hall, that Mrs. Gamble was ill and wanted Marjorie to return to her home, three miles away.

Newcomb, seal sale director for the National Tuberculosis association, spoke at the conference. The sale for the entire United States will go over $5,000,000, Newcomb said.

The sale in Columbiana county was $8,782.10. This is the largest on record, health league officials added.

SET DATES FOR LITTLE CITY CAGE TOURNEY

CARROLL CLUB COPS LEAD IN CLASS A RACE

Stops Sanitary To Gain Sole Possession of First Place

The Carroll Comets took over sole possession of the lead in the fifth round race of the City Class A basketball league last night, gaining a 46-40 victory over the National Sanitary passers, who were previously tied for first place.

The victory headed the Comets toward the championship of the fifth round and a chance to compete in the league playoffs with the Ohio State Employment Service, first round champion, and the Sanitary, winner of the second, third and fourth rounds.

The Comets can clinch fifth round honors by winning their next two games.

Lead Throughout
Taking a seven-point lead in the first quarter and increasing their advantage to 14 points in the second period, the Carroll Club led the Sanitary throughout their game. The Comets were out in front 10-3 at the end of the opening period, 27-13 at the half and 42-29 at the close of the third quarter.

The Sanitary, playing without the services of big Bob Jeffries, ace scoring threat, rallied somewhat in the fourth quarter, but was unable to overcome the big lead the Carroll Club had gained earlier in the game.

Clay Raynes was the big gun for the Comets, flipping seven field goals and two free throws through the hoop for 16 points. Al Catlos and Ed Jeffries tallied all but five of the Sanitary's 40 points.

The Ohio State Employment Service romped to an easy victory over Demings in the other Class A game, swamping the Pumpknakers beneath a 57-10-28 score. It was the Employment Service team's second win against two set-backs in the fifth round.

Hold Big Lead
The O. S. E. S. passers held a 17-point lead at the close of the first quarter and a 27-point advantage at halftime. Don Schaffer, Bill Cope and Glenn (Dinty) McLaughlin paced the Employment Service scoring, while Dick Wiggers and Bob Lora starred for Demings.

Scoring their fifth straight victory of the Class B league's round robin tournament, the Carroll Cadets trounced the Young People's Catholic Club, 26 to 12, in a lone Class B game.

The defeat was the Y. P. C. C.'s second of the round robin event in which three set-backs eliminate a team from the competition.

Timer Fires Gun At Game, Duck Falls From Rafters

By BILL WHITE
NEW YORK, March 8. — The Stanford auditorium was a madhouse as the hands of the clock swung into the closing seconds of a tense basketball game.

The timer raised his gun, paused momentarily and fired.
And down from the rafters plummeted a dead duck!

Of all the funny things that happened on basketball courts this year, that gag by an unseen Stanford student caught the fancy of the Associated Press' regional sports editors, who save up little gems like that for roundup stories like this.

Breezy Briets Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, March 8. — Ticket sales for the Tampa All-Star game have been so slow Judge Landis may shift it to St. Pete. Al Weill has rushed to the coast to fight a $12,000 law suit brought by Eddie Mayo, a booking agent, against Arturo Godoy. . . . Paul Dean, who "retired" two weeks ago, has changed his mind and wants the Giants to send him to the Dallas Steers. . . . Beattie Feathers, the old Tennessee football star, wants that vacant backfield coaching job at Howard. . . . Don Budge, wowed Tampa case society the other night by taking over the drums in Max Platner's Tampa Terrace Hotel band.

Iron Man Dept.
All this talk about Iron Man Nile Kinnick recalls the story of Mike Vermillion. . . . Mike was a skinny chap with only one eye. . . . but he played tackle for 60 minutes of every game Wichita university played in the four years he was there. . . . (Wichita played freshmen in those days.)

There is no line forming for Ray Morrison's old job at Vanderbilt—one of the hottest coaching spots in the country. . . . The White Sox front office is opposed to the idea but Monty Stratton is determined to try to pitch again this year.

Low Jenkins, one of the hardest hitters in the lightweight ranks, is a 1-2 choice over Tippy Larkin in the Garden tonight.

Today's Guest Star
Dan Daniel, N. Y. World-Telegram: "A little bird told the writer that if Bill Terry is willing to give up Harry Danning he has a good chance to make a deal with the Cardinals for no less famous a chaffet than Joe Medwick. . . . Branch Rickey and Sam Breadon are persuaded that with a first class catcher they could win the pennant. . . . even with Medwick gone and Don Padgett hitting in his place."

There are two sides to the current Mike Jacobs-Joe Gould-Jim Braddock law suit row. . . . Connie Mack is very high on Herman Besse, the $35,000 pitching beauty from Memphis. . . . Barney Ross made his debut as a referee in the Chicago Golden Gloves and handled himself like a veteran.

Dodger Doings
There are 11 outfielders, seven club house attendants and four road secretaries in the Brooklyn camp. . . . and Ernie Koy who reported weighing 232, worked his head off for three days and checked in at 208. . . . who said the Florida breezes are balmy than the Dodgers?

Help, Help
Al Sharp, the golf writer, who recently shifted from a Chattanooga to an Atlanta paper, forgot—of all things—his golf clubs. . . . Cliff Faur's defense man for the Pontiac Mich. hockey team, hails from New Orleans where the only ice is in cocktail glasses. . . . and Bruce Dudley, general manager of the Louisville ball club, is helping judge a flower show at Palatka, Fla.

Sad Plight
Sad was the plight of another Californian—a player on the California university team who, upon being heckled by his team-mate for sluggish play explained he had donned a pair of pants far too small for him—and dared not engage in any serious scrimmage for fear of what might happen.

Two southwest officials, Jack Sisco and Lynton Bogges, didn't see anything very funny in getting caught in the crowd trying to get into Gregory gym for the Texas-Rice championship game. Their cries were drowned in the jostling of a crowd of 8,000—and they had to get in line like all the rest of the ticket holders.

This one tickled a crowd at a St. Martin's college game at Lacey, Wash. Bob Reynolds had shaved all the hair from his head because he picked the wrong Rose Bowl team. He was playing in a game in which there was a mad scramble under the basket, and resounding slaps were heard as players frantically peited at Reynolds' pate and the ball.

Finally Coach Joe Paglia could stand it no longer, stood up and screamed, "hey, for crimmity a-ake's, you guys. The one with the ears is Reynolds."

Serious Game
Basketball is taken seriously in Canada as well as in this country. Consider the case of members of the Hamilton, Ont., team so intent on playing that they went out on the court in their underwear, their uniforms being not immediately available.

It can be a sentimental game too. Coach Paul Wright of Western State in Colorado said romance ruined his team, the boys being too much in love to play, while a team in the Midwest was lured into the proper frame of mind before games by the assistant coach playing Chopin waltzes on a piano.

Expected to Repeat
COLUMBUS, O., March 8. — Michigan, defending champion and winner of nine titles in the last 12 years, was expected to repeat today as the Western Conference swimming meet opened in the Ohio State university pool.

LOMBARDI OUT TO ATONE FOR SERIES BONER

Big Catcher Is Hardest Worker In Cincy's Spring Camp

TAMPA, Fla., March 8. — The hardest working player in the Cincinnati training camp is Ernie Lombardi, the goat of the last World Series. As game as he is big, Ernie wears the expression these days of a man who intends to make his detractors eat their words.

The slugging catcher never has made the slightest effort to explain what happened to him in that ludicrous climax of the big series, when the Yankees bounced him around like a rubber ball. The most he has said was, "I don't know what happened."

Probably that is the literal truth, but it would have been easy for him to have said that Keller knocked the wind from him when they collided at the plate, and that he was a hurt man for the remainder of the dizzy game. That has come to be the popular theory, yet Lombardi has done nothing to foster it.

Works Like Rookie
Now he is still nursing his own thoughts, and working like a rookie. Already he has caught two full inter-camp games, one of which went 12 innings. A teammate confided that Ernie was at least two weeks ahead of last spring in his conditioning, and said he would be willing to bet Ernie was coming back to hit at least .320.

Last year was bad for him all around. National league batting champion in 1938 with a mark of .342, and noted the league's most valuable player, he hit only .286 last season.

There is another case in the Cincinnati camp very similar to Lombardi's. Johnny Vander Meer looks like he might have a comeback in his system, too. Manager Bill McKechnie is sure of it. If both of them should return to their 1938 form, the Reds probably would be a shoe-in.

After having pitched his two consecutive no-hit, no-run games in '38 Johnny fished like a wet rocket last year. He never did get in real good shape and had a chronic "sore arm". Perhaps it was a hang-over from the banquet season to which he was subjected. Anyhow, he was the year's prize disappointment.

Feels Great
Now Johnny is out there looking like the better part of a million dollars again. He says he feels great and that his left arm is limber as a rag.

The new rule permitting a pitcher to take a full step backward before he begins his delivery might have been passed for Vandy's exclusive benefit. It was the way he learned to pitch, and when the umpires began to ride him for it last year they contributed to his blow-up.

Vander Meer, returned to the phenomenal form of '38, won't give McKechnie almost an embarrassing amount of fine pitching. He is the only starting southpaw the Reds have left, now that Lee Grissom has gone to the Yankees. But any club with a group of right handed bats like Paul Derringer, Buck Walters, Gene Moore, Whitely Moore, Jim Turner and Joe Beggs doesn't need to worry much about a "balanced staff."

"Brooklyn was loaded up with left handed batters last year, and with a short right field fence, but Walter beat them six or seven straight times," McKechnie recalled. "That's good enough for me."

KELLEY PLANS CAGE MEET ON MARCH 28, 29, 30

Entries Expected From Teams In Three States

Dates for the sixth annual Little City basketball tournament were announced today by J. M. Kelley, director.

The tournament, climaxing event of the basketball season in Salem, will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 28, 29 and 30, at the Memorial building.

Ranking as the only one of its kind in the state, the tournament is limited to teams from cities of 10,000 population or less. Entries will close Wednesday, March 27.

Expect 25 Teams
Kelley expects about 25 teams from Ohio, Pennsylvania and possibly West Virginia to compete in his all-star cage classic. Teams from three states have participated in the tournament for the past two years.

Formerly run off in two days, the tournament will stretch over three days this year if enough entries are received. Kelley points out that it is possible to run a tournament of 16 or 18 teams in two days, but to conduct one with 20 or more teams in that length of time places too great a strain on the players.

At least four Salem teams are expected to bid for the tournament championship. Entry blanks may be secured by calling at the Memorial building or writing to Kelley.

Popularity Increases
Started in 1935, the tournament, in five years, has enjoyed a steady increase in popularity until it now stands as one of the outstanding events of each local basketball season. Teams which have competed in the tournament have been high in their praise for the friendly manner in which the Little City meet is conducted.

Many of the tri-state area's leading college league and independent players have competed in past tournaments, including several who, at the time they played here, held all-state ranking.

Salem teams have won the tournament three times with the Shasteen Sinclairs capturing the championship in 1938 and 1939 and Sheen's Super Service winning the title in 1936. An Ironton team won the first tournament in 1935, while the Hubbard Graciet Club walked off with top honors in 1937.

The Kent Collegians, a team of outstanding college stars, were runners-up for the tournament championship in 1938 and 1939.

KROESSEN TO BE COMMISSIONER

Semi-Pros Name Sporting Goods Dealer to Rule Ohio Baseball

CLEVELAND, March 8.—The semi-pros served notice they are thinking of the coming baseball season by announcing today appointment of R. L. "Dick" Kroessen, Cleveland sporting goods dealer, as Ohio commissioner.

The national semi-pro baseball congress named Kroessen to a five-year term to succeed J. V. Flauto, of Youngstown.

"I'm starting next week to cover the state so we can build a big tournament this July," Kroessen said. "I think we're going to do a big job. I never saw so much interest in baseball—it's definitely coming back."

Sites under consideration for the state semi-pro meet, Kroessen said, are Springfield, Zanesville and Painesville. District tournaments will be scheduled in Ohio to precede the state meet, and the Ohio titlists will go to the national event at Wichita, Kan., Aug. 16-28, which will determine the team to represent the United States in the semi-pro world series in San Juan, P. R.

The 1939 semi-pro champs were the Struthers, O. North Side Civics. Kroessen, 50, long has been active in Cleveland amateur baseball. He helped found the Cleveland baseball federation, and once was president of seven or eight Cleveland amateur leagues at the same time. "There will be plenty of interest in our state tournament," Kroessen declared. "All the major loop scouts will attend."

Foils Holdup

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—William Patrick O'Neill, 31, figured out how to foil a holdup man. He jumped into the bay. O'Neill was walking along the waterfront with $45 in his pockets. A man brandished a pistol at him. O'Neill leaped into the water and clung to a piling, yelling until help came.

Today's Pattern

COTTON HAS PEAKED WAIST Pattern 4404

Fashion is fickle, but here's a style that will STAY in style season after season. Anne Adams' Pattern 4404 has such clean-cut, easy-to-stitch lines. The double front skirt panels are very flattering—cut them bias or straight and extend them to a high pointed waistline. A single center seam trims the back skirt for extra ease. Make the sleeves close fitting or crisply flared, and dart the shoulders generously to hold flat and trim the nice softness through the bodice. The youthful notched collar is becoming in self-fabric or in fresh contrast, with matching cuffs. Do use gay tie-rac or ruffle edging.

Pattern 4404 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 takes 4 yards 3/4 inch fabric and 1 1/2 yards tie-rac. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER. Capture SPRING ENCHANTMENT with a wardrobe selected from our ANNE ADAMS SPRING PATTERN BOOK. It interprets the new and lovely new styles in colorful clothes for tots, teens and twenties. The first dress for the business girl . . . smart frocks for the woman-past-forty . . . an exquisite costume for the bride and appealing new fashions in prints and cottons . . . all available in easy-to-sew patterns. BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS. Send your order to Salem News Pattern Department, 243 West 17th st. New York, N. Y.

THE GUMPS

"SELF MADE GIRL" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

SYNOPSIS

Linda Perry, youngest of the five poverty-stricken Perrys, lives with her family in a small frame house in the country near Philadelphia. Because she is the youngest and prettiest, Linda is spoiled by relatives. Ignorant of social distinctions and the heartaches they will cause later, Linda is completely happy in school with her three best friends—Constance, old Senator Scott's granddaughter; Ruth Wagner, daughter of the local doctor; and Thelma, whose father is the chauffeur of another wealthy family in the neighborhood. The first blow falls when socially climbing Mrs. Wagner objects to Linda's association with the other children. Soon after that, Constance Scott is sent away to a private school. Ruth Wagner forms a friendship with another girl and Linda—after having been a leader in school affairs for so long—suddenly finds herself in the background. But summer brings loyal Constance home. Again Linda is at the Scotts' every day. Her happiness is complete when Mrs. Scott presents the girls with matching dance frocks to attend their first dance at the country club, escorted by Glenn and Everett McAllister.

CHAPTER IV

Linda went home, with the blue and white dress, in a stiff lavender and silver pasted-on box. Grandma Pologne lifted it lovingly, exclaiming over the tiny hand-rolled ruffles, the exquisite quality. Mrs. Perry looked for the price tag and shook her head worriedly. You oughtn't to take anything so expensive. I didn't mind the other things so much—but this—this is different.

"Oh, it's nothing to them," Linda said, lightly.

"Well, I must say you're unappreciative!" Mrs. Perry said, bitterly. She gave up. They'd all done too much for Linda, nothing meant anything to her any more. She was spoiled, spoiled!

Linda slipped upstairs with her box and her dress.

She laid it out on the bed, touching each ruffle, each fold, with careful, loving fingers. Swiftly, guiltily, she kissed the stiff ribbon sash. Then she dropped to her knees beside the bed and closed her eyes. With her eyes shut and her palms pressed tight against them she could see the McAllister boys as clearly as she'd seen them yesterday. She was almost, but not quite sure, that the younger, slimmer one had looked at her more than he had at Connie.

Linda had her dinner early the night of the dance. Grandma set a place for her at one corner of the kitchen table, gave her a generous helping of braised beef and fresh peas and carrots out of the garden.

Linda tried to eat, because she knew it was expected of her, but each mouthful stuck in her throat. She was half sick with excitement. She spilled her glass of water and twice the fork leaped from her shaking, ice-cold hands, went clattering to the floor. She was disgusted with herself. Here she was, a nervous wreck, eating her dinner, or trying to eat her dinner, early, so that she'd have plenty of time to dress later, and Constance would be curled up reading a book, not even giving it a thought till half an hour before time to leave.

She was still hot and cold with nervousness when she was all ready and the blue and white dotted dimity had been duly exhibited to the family.

She looked pretty; she knew she did. And she knew why Grandma Pologne wiped a tear away and her father sighed. They thought it was too bad that she wasn't a child any more. They didn't realize that she was GLAD to be growing up.

Later, taking a last-minute look at herself in the country club dress-

Lynn was almost sure that the younger, slimmer one had looked at her more than he had at Connie.

ing room, she saw with guilty satisfaction that she was really much prettier than Constance. Constance wasn't really pretty at all. You just THOUGHT she was pretty because she FELT pretty, and she was Constance Scott and sought after. Actually she was a plain, rather sallow little blonde, with indifferently curly yellow hair fast turning dark. Linda, with her fair, transparent skin, her blue eyes and her straight black bang, was much more exciting.

Exhilarated, conscious of something close to disloyalty to her best friend, she came into the brightly lit ballroom with Constance, smiled vaguely at the young man Mr. Scott brought up.

Another young man cut in and she danced away with him. Her eyes were shining, she smiled and she chattered, but it was all a blur. Afterwards she couldn't recall any of it clearly. All she could remember was the music and the warm glow that came from not being a wallflower. And Glenn McAllister.

She'd been right about Glenn—he had been looking at her all right. He singled her out, right away. The other brother, Everett, was even better looking. But there was a something about Glenn. Different. Different from any boy she'd ever known. Sort of high-brow. Talked about books.

Just what he'd said, Linda didn't know. Or what she said, but she must have been all right, because he seemed interested.

He had very straight brown, or were they black, eyebrows. Long, and neither thick nor thin, and very, very straight. Serious brown eyes, straight, dark brown hair brushed back from a broad forehead. Being so dark himself, he'd probably preferred a blonde . . . and she worried a little until he called her "an ebony-haired blonde" and then she knew that everything was going to be all right.

Everything was so very all right, that she almost forgot about Constance, and the Scotts. She and "Gone With the Wind," screen version of the best-selling novel by Margaret Mitchell, comes to the State tomorrow to show through the following week.

The characters of the book, which has been one of the most widely read and discussed in many years, are now familiar to most readers.

The fiery, wilful Scarlett O'Hara, heroine of the book, is played by Vivian Leigh, young English actress who was selected for the prize role of the year after thousands had been tested.

Clark Gable, screen idol who was the almost universal choice of fans for the role, plays Rhett Butler, Scarlett's lover. Olivia De Havilland has the role of the gentle Melanie Hamilton, personification of the gentility and culture of the pre-war south, and Leslie Howard as her husband, Ashley Wilkes, whom Scarlett strove to win. Hattie McDaniels as the Negro mammy is listed in the group of principals by reason of her superb characterization.

The full sweep and force of the book, with the added effect of the best technicolor yet seen on the screen, complete the picturization of the story.

Concluding at the state tonight is the mystery-comedy, "Slightly Honorable," with Pat O'Brien, Ruth Terry, Edward Arnold, Broderick Crawford and Claire Dodd.

At the Grand tonight and Saturday is "Taming of the West" featuring Bill Elliott and Iris Meredith.

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—California marriages have decreased 36 per cent as a result of the new state law requiring pre-marriage physical examination. Adjoining states furnish necessary Gretna Greens for those who object to the examination.

When they were dancing the last waltz he said, "I'm coming to see you tomorrow. You're visiting the Scotts, aren't you?"

Of course. He'd think that. Any one would, seeing her here with them. And when he knew. . . . "No," she said very clearly, so there'd be no mistake. "I'm not. I live right here in town, but my family doesn't belong to the club, so the Scotts brought me tonight."

"Swell," he said. "What's the address?"

She wanted to tell him, and have it over with. She really did, but she found herself saying, "Oh, just off the Pike—not hard to find. But I'm going to be at Connie's tomorrow."

She lay awake most of the night, worrying, rushed heavy-eyed and pale to the Scotts', long before she was expected. Connie was still in bed, yawning over her breakfast tray, but she was wide awake as soon as she saw Linda.

"Darling," she said, "he's wonderful! I don't know what there is about him, but he's different. His eyes! Did you notice his eyes?"

"DID I? Of course, I did!"

"Well, naturally, anyone would. But I don't believe you did more than speak to him, so I didn't know that you even saw him. You certainly didn't dance with him!"

"Not very much," Linda giggled. And when she saw that Constance wasn't clowning, she was talking about Glenn's BROTHER! It took

James Rosselli, 43, census objector, has changed his mind. Refusing to answer census questions may cost one a $500 fine, six months in jail or both.

More Than Pills and Powders

There is more to a prescription than its physical appearance . . . more, even, than an analysis of it would show. Each and every prescription contains two unseen ingredients—the skill of the doctor and the integrity of the pharmacist. Without them, pills and powders would have little or no medicinal value.

BERKELEY, Calif.—The first 20 pages of a book are the most difficult for students at the University of California. V. J. McHenry, who annually supervises the renewing of the 3,000 library books at the university press building, reports that it is always the first 20 pages of a book that suffer the greatest damage from the efforts of students to concentrate on them. The middle and the end rarely ever have to be renewed.
